Metal brace detaches from Ferris Wheel

A report has been received by NAFLIC of a 5-year-old girl being injured at an amusement park/fairground in Giovinazzo, Puglia, southern Italy, when she was struck by part of a Ferris Wheel. The girl was injured when a metal brace detached itself from the ride and struck her as she walked nearby with her parents. The girl was hospitalised and apparently lost a substantial amount of blood. According to the report, the girl's mother was also hit by the piece of metal.
