Ferris Wheel incident in China

Reports have been received of an incident in an amusement park in south eastern China in September where a 5-year-old boy was left dangling by his head from a carriage on a Ferris Wheel ride. The boy's head was stuck in bars fitted over the open window of the rider carriage while the attraction continued to rotate. According to the report the child had been allowed to ride alone on the attraction. The venue involved was the Taizhou Yuhuan Amusement Park in Zhejiang province.
